

ROBERT THOMAS JOINS ORIGIN, INC. AS EXPERT IN UTILITY CIS

June 23, 2010

Atlanta, GA. – Robert R. Thomas, a veteran in utility operations and CIS system design both nationally and internationally, has joined the Origin, Inc. team as a Principal Consultant.

Thomas, of Monroe, N.C., spent the past nine years at KamTech Systems as a Principal Consultant responsible for the functional growth of the organization. Clients included the National Water Commission of Jamaica, the City of Charlotte, the Orlando Utilities Commission and Seattle Public Utilities.

“We have worked with Robert in conjunction with some of our major accounts and found him to be a remarkable leader,” said Mark L. Black, president of Origin, Inc. “We believe Robert will bring that same leadership to our firm as we continue to expand our national identity in the CIS and Utility markets.”

Origin, Inc. is a leading consulting firm in the implementation and support of revenue management and billing solutions for Utility/Energy Industries, Taxing Authorities, and Financial Services entities. The Atlanta-based consulting group has worked on projects in more than a dozen states, integrating customer care and billing systems for more efficient and effective revenue management.

Thomas is an expert in utility operations with more than 15 years of experience as a project manager, consultant, business leader and operations analyst. He has a master’s degree in business administration and doctoral-level training in information systems. He is a certified project management professional and Siebel certified consultant.

“Robert’s experience and knowledge will bring great value to Origin,” Black said. “He is one more bright star in our management team. We are glad to have him on board.”
